Problem statement: How do we infuse fresh new happy visitors into downtown businesses?

Let's take a look at the "sister" attractions within 50 miles.

What defines a "sister" attraction?

- Period of history for point of interest?
- Theme of architecture?
- Types of businesses?
- What visitors seem to talk about the most?

What do all these attractions have in common?

Visitors curious about the old west. They want to get a feel for what that was like.

HANGMAN'S TREE
 HISTORIC SPOT

Tim Taylor, owner of the Hangman's Tree, top photo, makes the final adjustments to George, the Hangman dummy, after he was re-hung at high noon Friday in downtown Placerville. Back on his winter stands, George needed a little gampering. His party flag had broken off, his suspension wires a bit weathered and he was in need of new dolls, so he was taken down Feb. 22. The Hangtown Marshals, at left, ready George for his hanging in Hangtown.

The El Dorado County Fire Protection was recently briefed on the proposed re-use of Historic City Hall. Due to County Fire being the successor agency of the Placerville Fire Department, County Fire has long had an interest in Confidence Hall housing a fire museum or fire history display.

In the event that the building is being considered for re-use, El Dorado County Fire Protection District is full support of the proposed Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center. County Fire can potentially provide historical support and fire memorabilia for future display on a rotating basis.

County Fire appreciates the opportunity to be a part of these discussions and welcomes any continuing dialogue regarding this proposal.

From: Placerville Downtown Association (PDA)

RE: Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center Proposal

The Placerville Downtown Association has the pleasure of receiving the Wopumnes Tribe's proposal for re-use of the Mustard and Ketchup building. After listening to the proposal, receiving feedback from the businesses and deliberations, the PDA voted to support this proposal.

The Placerville Downtown Association sees the downtown's unique gold rush architecture and history as an asset calling people from all over the world to come enjoy. To improve this experience, we are very excited by the Wopumnes Tribe's proposal. The PDA is eager to see the Confidence Firehouse restored to its heyday with a place for Doc Wiser's Stagecoach, the volunteer fire pump wagon, support for the Wopumnes having a place to house and display their history and artifacts and the Hangtown Marshals to have a home base to greet visitors to the downtown.

Having a REAL welcome and interpretive center open seven days will be an essential asset to downtown businesses, drawing in more new and return visitors who are fans of firefighters, the old west and native American history. Not only will drawing in more traffic increase the success of downtown businesses, the presence of the docents in the downtown would make visitors feel welcome while encouraging a safe environment.

The Placerville Downtown Association will be engaging with the Tribe, the Hangtown Marshals, surrounding businesses and the Fire District as part of the overall effort for a successful visitor's center.

The Placerville Downtown Association is fully supportive of the Wopumnes Nisenan-Mewuk of El Dorado County California Heritage Preservation Society 501(c)3 #83-2671897 proposal for the Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center and encourage the City of Placerville to approve the Wopumnes Tribe's proposal.

Dear Ms. Perdichizzi,

The El Dorado County Historical Society supports the restoration and preservation of the buildings at 487/489 Main Street in Placerville, known as the Confidence Hall and the Emigrant Jane Buildings.

These two buildings make a significant contribution to the historical integrity and fabric of Placerville's Main Street. The Society supports your plan to preserve the original structures, and to properly bring their history to the public.

The Society Board of Directors, at their regular meeting on April 10, 2019, voted to support your proposal, as written by the El Dorado County Wopumnes Nisenan-MeWuk Nation of Shingle Springs and Sue Taylor, Historical Society member and Chair of the Society's Preservation Building Standing Committee.

We believe your diverse group of culturally minded individuals should have a place in the decision-making process for the preservation and use of the aforementioned properties. We appreciate your efforts to make restoration and preservation a key element of any product produced on Placerville's Historic Main Street. Visual integrity (exterior and interior) is a must in this and any other preservation project.

Thank you so much for understanding what makes a proposal complete and relevant.

Sincerely,

RE: Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center

The Georgetown Preservation Society represents the Georgetown Divide. The Georgetown Preservation Society was recently briefed on the proposed re-use of proposal of Confidence and Emigrant Jane Buildings. We voted to unanimously support this effort and have an interest in Confidence and Emigrant Jane museum, a Nisenan Native Heritage Center as well as becoming a real Welcome Center open to the public on the weekends where the Hangtown Marshals can docent for visitors coming to Placerville. We think it will turn into a wonderful asset for El Dorado County and downtown Placerville.

The Georgetown Preservation Society appreciates the opportunity to be a part of these discussions and welcomes any continuing dialogue regarding this proposal.

Regarding the Wopumnes Nisenan-Mewuk Tribe: The Wopumnes has had a long history in El Dorado County dating before the Gold Rush. The Tribe regularly docents at Coloma State Park and has a reverence for the County, Community and Environment. Their proposal will provide a much needed feature to downtown Placerville and El Dorado County.

Regarding Sue Taylor Designs: I personally have had the pleasure and opportunity to work with Sue Taylor over the last 4 years. I have been under the tutelage of Sue Taylor for those years and I am in awe of the work I have personally seen as finished more than two dozen structures and works under historic restoration Sue has supervised. What I have learned most from her is not the technical aspects of her projects but of the amazing perception of the true value to future generations of historical preservation. In Georgetown we have taken as our motto of "preserving our past to protect our future".

Again we re-emphasize that Georgetown Preservation Society is fully supportive of the Wopumnes Nisenan-Mewuk of El Dorado County California Heritage Preservation Society 501(c)3 #83-2671897 proposal for the Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center. Georgetown Preservation Society can potentially provide historical support and mining and other period memorabilia for future display on a rotating basis.

Hangtown Marshals

February 24 · 🌐

Yesterday the Hangtown Marshals had their annual membership meeting at Solid Ground brewery.

We had a lot to discuss with the membership.

The city of Placerville wants the marshals to be more involved on the weekends with the tourist. We will be doing some historical education of our local area and having more shoot outs in town.

We have a very busy schedule this year.

To Whom It May Concern:

The Hangtown Marshals is a historical reenactment group dedicated to the preservation of the Old West and to gun safety. In 1989 the Marshals began making regular appearances on Main Street, Placerville in order to interact with the community and visitors to the area. Marshal activities consist of living history appearances at some of El Dorado County's largest events, providing exciting entertainment to the community with Wild West reenactments (gun fights and theatrical portrayals) and live music. We enjoy entertaining and educating our audiences. Today, the Hangtown Marshals have a total of 11 Marshals, 7 Deputies, and 4 Lovely Ladies.

I have received the Wopumnes Tribe's proposal for re-use of the Mustard and Ketchup buildings, and I respectfully submit my endorsement of the Tribe's project. The Marshals are eager to see the Confidence Firehouse restored to its heyday, with a place for Doc Wiser's Stagecoach, the volunteer fire fighter's pump wagon, a place for the Tribe to display their history and artifacts, and an office for the Hangtown Marshals.

Having a manned welcome center open seven days a week would be a real asset to downtown businesses, drawing in new and return visitors as well as busloads of children on school field trips, similar to what is happening now in Coloma. This visitor's center will draw in many people who are fans of Firefighters, the Old West and Native American culture.

We are very excited and extremely grateful that the Wopumnes Tribe is inviting the Hangtown Marshals to have a home base to operate from in our hometown.

Gold Rush Fire Brigade and Horse Drawn Fire Museum and Sacramento Fire Museum

Attention Placerville Town Council

May, 2, 2019

Please consider this offer of support for the creation of a Hand Drawn Fire Museum at Placerville's Confidence Fire House. The Old Fire House is the finest example left in existence from that "Hand Drawn Era" of the Volunteer Fire Companies created by the Pioneers that settled the West during the Gold Rush.

It must be preserved for the education and enlightenment of future generations that will come to live or visit the heartland of the Gold County.

Creating "Confidence" Fire Museum as a part of the Sacramento Regional Fire Museum network, combined with an adjacent Tribal Indian Museum, will tremendously enhance Placerville as a primary destination to explore the Historic Cultures of El Dorado County both before, and during the Gold Rush.

Dear Mayor and Council Members,

The purpose of this letter is to urge you to maintain the Confidence Engine Fire House for future use as a fire museum. California has a rich history in the early establishment of fire companies during the gold rush. That fire house is a historic building in your city and should be maintained for future generations.

The Volunteer Firefighters that protected Hangtown deserve to be remembered and recognized for their dedication to your community.

I am the Chairman of the Pioneer Mutual Hook & Ladder Society and the Sacramento Regional Fire Museum. We are dedicated to the historical preservation of all fire service agencies in Northern California. Once established we would consider the Confidence hand drawn fire house as an associate museum and will assist them in researching their history and locating artifacts. Also, we have established an associate museum relationship with the Gold Rush Fire Brigade in Pilot Hill that have horse drawn fire apparatus.

I thank you in advance for your consideration of this suggestion.

Respectfully submitted,

Fire Chief Forrest D. Adams, Sacramento Fire Department (Ret.)

2015 Burne Engineering Structural Report Recommendations:

Option I: Rehabilitate and Strengthen Existing URM Shear Walls

1. Least Costly
2. Brings Confidence building immediately into safety compliance before other structural work is done.
3. Once the walls are strengthened and the floors secured to the walls then the interior structural and electrical refurbishment along with the replacement of the roof can be addressed.
4. Period sensitive interior design to replicate as much as possible the interior style of the Confidence Fire Hall and Jane.

Condition of buildings...

Condition of buildings...

From the 2015 Burne Engineering Structural Report:

1. West brick wall is severely bowed and cracked.
2. Substantial fire damage to the inset wood and bricks and mortar.
3. Using this wall for structural support would not be possible...
4. The cracking and bowing is serious concern since the public parking area is directly below...
5. ...the building is a major public safety hazard.
6. ...workable solutions may be found to “save” this wall....

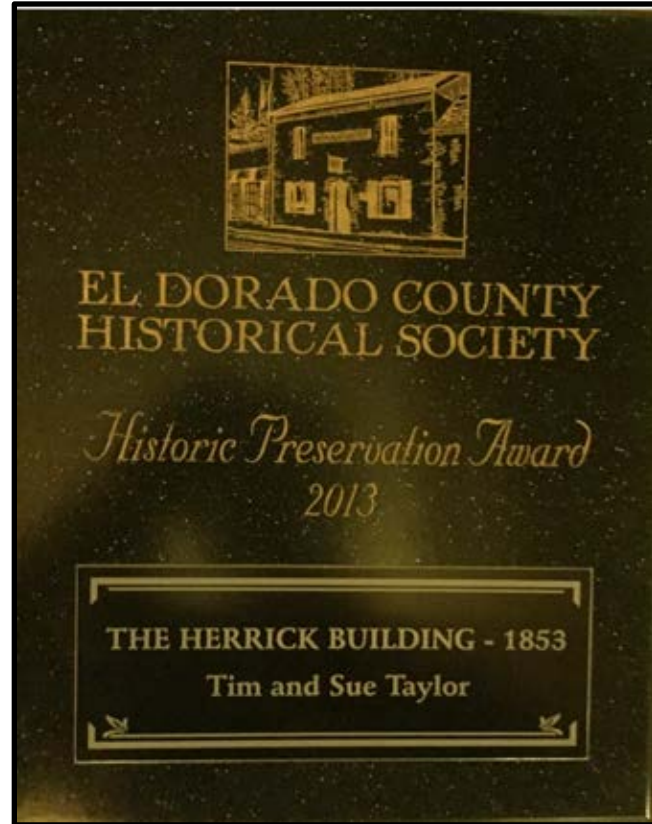

“Making it happen” with local expertise

1. Acknowledge the buildings' current condition right now requires remediation from the base up.
2. Current prognosis of remediation of the building and retain historical culture is good.
3. Architectural design and engineering in the 1800's style
4. External beautification input from participating alliances/businesses and community.
5. Responsible economic decisions while supporting the existing culture and lifestyle for this community.

RE: Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center

The El Dorado County Fire Protection was recently briefed on the proposed re-use of Historic City Hall. Due to County Fire being the successor agency of the Placerville Fire Department, County Fire has long had an interest in Confidence Hall housing a fire museum or fire history display.

In the event that the building is being considered for re-use, El Dorado County Fire Protection District is full support of the proposed Confidence Hall and Emigrant Jane Visitor Center. County Fire can potentially provide historical support and fire memorabilia for future display on a rotating basis.

County Fire appreciates the opportunity to be a part of these discussions and welcomes any continuing dialogue regarding this proposal.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Ogan

Lessons learned from Frontier Village

A farm family in San Jose built Frontier Village in 1961.

The Old West park and surrounding farms lasted for 20 years

Was torn down to build condominiums. Their farms went away too. Today San Jose is concrete freeways, Condominiums, tract homes shopping centers and tilt-ups with over million people...

They miss their Frontier Village ...and their farms.
